Retrieved from " <https://www.bellsfoundry.com>: This quest by Bells founders over centuries of bell founding has resulted in development of an optimum profile for casting each size of bell to give true harmonic tuning. The bell as Bells in fine art:

A variant on the bell is the tubular bell. The Tsar Bell by the Motorins. Alternatively, the clapper may have a shorter period and catch up with the bell's leading side, travel up with the bell coming to rest on the downhill. The bells of Marquis Yi—which were still fully playable after almost 2,500 years—cover a range of slightly more than five octaves but thanks to their dual-tone capability, the set can sound a complete tone scale—predating the development of the European tone system by 2,500 years—and can play Bells in diatonic and pentatonic scales.
